

Resource Lists for Teachers of Dance

2019

Compiled by Fiona Smith

Introduction

Regardless of whether you are a newly qualified teacher just about to embark on teaching dance for the first time or, an experienced teacher, we all need fresh ideas and to know about the resources available to support and enrich our teaching. This resource updates and builds on the 2012 edition produced for the former National Dance Teachers Association. The lists have been compiled as a quick point of reference; they are personal suggestions from the contributors, offered in the spirit of sharing ideas and information. Lists typically contain a few 'old favourites' that stand the test of time and reference to new and emerging artists, research, resources and sources of support. The items listed are accessible through Google, Google Images, I Tunes or YouTube.

Before showing any of the YouTube clips you are strongly advised to ensure they are suitable for the age, experience and motivation of your students.

Acknowledgements

Thank you to everyone who contributed to the original resource, in particular to members of the NDTA Executive Committee and the Dance and Physical Education trainees from the University of Brighton.

Thank you also to Amy Williams, Dance in Education Manager at One Dance UK for her support with the production on this edition.
