Dance group from Wolverhampton selected for national youth dance festival at London's Southbank Centre

A school dance group from Wolverhampton has been selected to perform in the national youth dance festival, U.Dance 2019

Our Lady and St Chads Catholic Academy is a school-based dance group from Wolverhampton, will perform at U.Dance 2019. U.Dance is a national youth dance festival presented by One Dance UK, in partnership with the ISTD, which returns to London's South Bank this summer with a line-up of youth dance groups from across the United Kingdom.

Being selected for U.Dance is a fantastic opportunity for the group from Our Lady and St Chads Catholic Academy who will be performing a piece entitled Bad Blood choreographed by Mikey Ureta and Zoe Phillips and comment "U.Dance to our group means an opportunity to prove to people that even though we are a school we are still able to be as good as dance companies. It's also another huge step to great success as the more opportunities we get like this one can improve our dancers both as a team and also as individuals."

Our Lady and St Chads Catholic Academy join an impressive line-up of twenty dance groups, selected from over 290 entrants involving thousands of young people nationwide through a series of 20 regional heats. The groups will perform at Queen Elizabeth Hall, housed within Europe's largest centre for the arts, and take part in activities spanning the South Bank, including National Theatre, Rambert and BFI Southbank.

One Dance UK's Head of Children and Young People, Laura Nicholson, comments:

"We were overwhelmed this year with hundreds of applications from youth dance groups from across the country. The standard was exceptionally high, demonstrating that young people in the UK are passionate about creating and performing groundbreaking and high-quality dance work."

Each year the U.Dance national youth dance festival showcases a selection of the best dance groups from all over the country in a range of performances and gives the opportunity for hundreds of young people to take part in workshops and masterclasses with dance industry professionals, inspire each other with a love of dance and develop their understanding within the dance sector.

Andrew Hurst, Chief Executive of One Dance UK says:

“The U.Dance national youth dance festival is an important event on the dance calendar we are delighted to be working in partnership with the ISTD to deliver this year’s event. From the regional platforms to the Festival itself, U.Dance engages with more than 2,000 young dancers, encouraging them in the pursuit of excellence in dance and embarking on careers in dance, highlighting one of One Dance UK’s key aspirations – to raise the profile of dance teaching and practice in all its diverse forms.”
